

architecture

Services Overview

G70's signature architectural designs create one of a kind environments with a distinct contemporary expression, rooted in the history and culture of the local community. Our projects capture and support the cultural context and honor a place's historical legacy. Combining this approach with planning for sustainability and applying technical innovation, G70 creates harmonious, memorable and lasting designs.

Our designs are seen as catalysts to the revitalization of regions, cities, neighborhoods and developments. Our work's emphasis, creating sustainable environment through celebrating the history and culture of place, encourages communities to reconnect with its unique qualities and enhancing relationships by design.

Cultural heritage and regional influences are emphasized in G70's design approach. In Hawai'i, the firm coined the term "kama'āina architecture" to identify work that mirrors the 50th State's special ethnic blend. G70 principals, who take primary responsibility for capturing and characterizing each design's unique attributes, believe that the search for form is also a synergistic group process. This successful philosophy is rooted in the belief that clients deserve excellence at all levels of decision-making. The results are distinctive, award-winning environments that have a rich appeal, harmony and value over time.

